List of References

The lists of references below have the ISBN listed at the end of each listing. The ISBN or ASIN can be used to locate the reference at a bookstore or for searching on an online web site such as Amazon, iowastatepress.com or in a library.

When studying always use the latest editions of the references that are available.

Please keep in mind that you should seek other references if you cannot determine or find answers to topics that you are studying for the exam.

These references are used to gather information to create questions for the exams, and, not all of the contents of a reference are used. Please use these references to understand the concepts of topics for the exam and not memorize or study the references in full.

The best types of study guides are things that you do everyday in your work environment and the knowledge that you learn from the experience of others.
